

Kirk A. Moore

Kirk A. Moore, an Analyst with Obsidian, is responsible for much of Obsidian's subprime bond analysis and valuation, both for Obsidian's own account and its role advising banks and hedge funds. Mr. Moore received his J.D. from the University of Oregon School of Law in 2004, and his B.S. in business economics from Willamette University in 1997. From 2004 through early 2008, Mr. Moore practiced law with the law firm of Harrang Long Gary Rudnick P.C. in Eugene and Portland, Oregon. His law practice focused on commercial lending, commercial litigation and labor and employment law. Prior to law school, Mr. Moore worked at Copper Mountain Trust in the company's packaged 401(k) product.
